

Helen Harvey FIRP

Lander Associates' clients benefit from Helen's 30 years' experience within the recruitment industry, working within both the corporate arena and for owner-managed businesses.

Her expertise is at director level. She spent several years directing operations for Manpower before taking up the post of Managing Director with Select Education where she developed the business internationally.

Helen has provided senior management and consultancy expertise to several UK-based companies, including two recruitment agencies. She also developed and implemented a recruitment programme for a multi-million pound project for the UK train network.

Helen has designed and delivered management development/assessment centres for management teams and consultants wishing to progress into management roles. She has also incorporated structured induction programmes linked to formal qualifications.

She is a Fellow of the REC and sits on the REC Examination Steering and Awarding Group Committee. She has been regularly published within trade publications and was commissioned to write a series of articles on recruitment practices aimed at the business sector. Last year she won a Lifetime Achievement Award for her services to recruitment.

Helen specialises in one to one consultancy and facilitation.
